

2005 Election Reform Package

SECRETARY OF STATE SAM REED

Strengthening county election reviews House Bill 1749

Reviews of County Election Procedure

The Secretary of State is required to review each county's elections procedures at least once every three years, rather than merely "periodically".

Approximately 13 counties will be reviewed each year. Previously 4 or 5 counties were reviewed per year.

The county is required to respond to the review in writing, listing the steps that will be taken to correct any problems.

The Secretary of State is required to return before the next primary or general election to verify that the corrective steps have been taken.
